CONVENTION 1982

NCNA Convention

The North Carolina Numismatic Association will hold its annual convention Friday to Sunday, November 5-7 at the Kerr Scott Building on the North Carolina State Fairground west of Raleigh.

In addition to the bourse which Chairman Ted Hendrick has been working very hard to organize, this year's NCNA convention will offer an exceptional educational program. Charles Hoskins will be present to authenticate coins. Talks will be given by Adolf Weiss of the Full Step Nickel Club; Dr. Warren A. Lapp, editor of "Penny Wise," and Bill Fivaz of Dunwoodie, Georgia. A full schedule of events is listed on page 2.

Exhibitors should request exhibit space from Mrs. Autence Bason, Box 20653, Greensboro NC 27420.

JUNIORS PROGRAM

Once again the North Carolina Numismatic Association will present a special program for junior numismatists. This will include a one-day competitive special exhibit for juniors. There will be a talk on exhibiting for the juniors, and finally there will be a tour of North Carolina Museum of History where we have been promised a special look at samples of all the museum's numismatic holdings as well as the public display of the collection of coins from the Bechtler mint. Adults may join the tour on a space available basis.

CALL FOR AWARDS NOMINATIONS

Each year the NCNA presents three awards.

The H. Fred Simpson award for outstanding contributions to numismatics in North Carolina. This award was previously contributed by Marion Davies.

The Bason Literary award for outstanding contribution to the numismatic literature by a North Carolinian.

The Jimmy Jackson award to the outstanding junior numismatist in North Carolina.

Nominations for any of these awards should be sent to the Secretary-Treasurer at Box 20653, Greensboro NC 27420. These awards as well as awards for exhibitors will be presented at the awards breakfast to be held on Sunday morning at the Mission Valley Inn. Cliff Mischler of Krause publications will speak about his worldwide experiences at the Awards Breakfast.

Brief biographies of all candidates nominated before June 15th were run in the Summer issue of the JOURNAL. At that time we didn't have space to run photos of the candidates. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
I request that my name be withdrawn as a candidate for 1st Vice President of N.C.N.A.
I did not know at the time you asked me if I would accept nomination that Mrs. Autence Bason would also be a candidate for this office. If I had known, I would had declined the nomination.
It is my opinion that Mrs. Bason is deserving of being elected as 1st Vice President, and hopefully becoming President of N.C.N.A. in the future. Those of us who know her well are well aware of what she has contributed to Numismatics locally, statewide and nationally. Certainly North Carolina should give her recognition for her efforts and love of Numismatics.

Sincerely yours,

John Latham

P.S. In the event I should be nominated for the Board or any other office, I will decline the nomination.

More On Old Timers

In the Spring issue of this journal we listed persons included in the 1964 ANA Directory who were still active. To the additions listed in the Summer issue we should include Mr. George B. Fleming of Greenville.

That directory included at least three North Carolinians with ANA numbers lessed than ten thousand: Dr. Conway Bolt of Marshville, F. Garland Coble of Greensboro, and R. B. Gross of Sanford. Unfortunately Dr. Bolt and Mr. Coble are now deceased.

In the Summer issue we raised the question of who has the lowest ANA membership number in the state. Up to the present the lowest numbers found are:

J. W. Baxter Bason	22840
Ted Hendrick	25863
Ed Plonski	31360

Do we have any lower?

A small town is where you deserve less credit for resisting temptation than you do for finding it.

BOSTON PEACE PARTY
by R. E. Southworth

The American Numismatic Association held its 91st Annual convention in Boston, Massachusetts August 17th through August 22nd, using the theme "Boston Peace Party". What a party it was too! An exciting week — something for everyone — whether you are a collector, exhibitor, dealer, or just a casual visitor, abounding with opportunities to renew old acquaintances, meet new friends. There were tours prearranged for the visitors, including the junior numismatists, and a little theatre with varied presentations for the viewing public.

The exhibits this year were most colorful, creative and educational; the number and quality being superior to prior years. Highly competitive displays representing nineteen out of a total twenty possible categories, plus non-competitive exhibits.

Throughout the week many meetings and activities were held under the umbrella of numismatics, with more than thirty groups on the schedule, either official board meetings, membership meetings and symposiums, some of these meetings met over breakfast, lunch or dinner, or perhaps a reception.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing had an outstanding display and made available souvenir cards for purchase. The United States Mint also had a booth for sale of the new George Washington commemorative coins and bicentennial coins and sets. A lengthy line formed early at both tables from opening day to the end of the convention with stocks of both running completely out, necessitating additional shipments to be brought in by air. The US Postal Service made their services available on the bourse floor through out the week.

Various foreign mints were also represented, as were several publishers and numismatic supply firms. Krause publications and Amos press were among the firms represented.

The coin auctions were popular and well attended. Successful bidders found some good bargains, while other rare coins and material brought record prices.

Attendance at the ANA convention was lower than anticipated from previous conventions, yet an estimated eight thousand had registered by the end of the convention.

The Boston Peace Party is now history for most of us, but for those thirty individuals who were fortunate enough to take the post-convention tour to England, Wales, and Scotland the excitement lingers on. Pleasant memories will be with us as we reminisce about the 91st ANA convention and anticipate next year's convention in San Diego California.

SIGN UP A NEW MEMBER TODAY

Use the attached membership application to do your part to help the North Carolina Numismatic Association by signing up a new member today.

On November 9, 1981 the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Numismatic Association set the following rates for dues for the different classifications of memberships.

At the same meeting the Board created a new membership classification: Joint Membership. This allows two members of the same household, either husband and wife or parent and child, to both be full members of NCNA at a reduced rate. Both would have full voting privileges, but only one copy of the NCNA JOURNAL will be mailed to the Joint Members.

Autence Wins Two Firsts In Boston

NCNA members Russ Southworth and Autence Bason each entered two exhibits at the ANA convention in Boston. Mrs. Bason won first place awards for both her communion token exhibit and her love token exhibit. This is an outstanding feat for which we offer our congratulations.
